Husband arrested in Dover woman's murder

Contact: D. Traub, 781-830-4917

A 45-year-old Dover, Mass., mother has been found dead in an outdoor area not far from her home and her husband has been charged with her murder, according to Norfolk District Attorney Michael W. Morrissey and Dover Chief of Police Peter A. McGowan.

Kathleen McLean, of 29 Valley Rd., Dover, was last seen in her home on Thursday evening. Massachusetts State Police detectives assigned to the Norfolk District Attorney's Office, Dover Police and Dedham Police have been investigating the circumstances of her disappearance.

Police developed information about her possible location and found her remains after 11 p.m. tonight.

Her husband, Ingolf Tuerk, 58, also of 29 Valley Rd., Dover, has been arrested and charged with her murder.

The District Attorney's Office expects that he will be arraigned Monday under the authority of the Dedham District Court, according to court protocols and capacity during the present state of emergency.

All defendants are presumed innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.
